Internal control over financial reporting

The Swedish Companies Act regulates the Board and CEO's responsibility concerning internal control. The Board's responsibility is also regulated by the Swedish Corporate Governance Code, which includes requirements for annual external information disclosure concerning the manner in which the financial reporting is organised.

Internal control

Semcon has defined internal control as a process designed to provide reasonable assurance that Semcon's objectives are achieved in terms of appropriate, efficient operations, reliable reporting, and procedures for complying with applicable rules and regulations. The internal control involves the Board, CEO, Group management and other employees and is based on a control environment that creates the basis for the other four components in the process – risk assessment, control activities, information and communication, and monitoring. The process bases itself on the framework for internal control issued by the Committee of the Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO).

The control environment includes the values and ethics that the Board, CEO and Group management communicate and use and that are documented in Semcon's Code of Conduct. It also includes the Group's organisational structure, management, decision-making channels, authorisations and responsibilities as well as the expertise of employees. Semcon's mission, objectives and strategies are the basis of day-to-day work. Semcon is characterised by a decentralised organisation based in target-oriented management.

Internal control over financial reporting

Internal control over financial reporting aims to provide reasonable assurance concerning reliability of the external financial reporting in the form of interim reports, year-end reports and annual reports, and that the external financial reports are prepared in accordance with laws, applicable accounting standards and other requirements imposed on listed companies. The following description has been drawn up in accordance with the Swedish Corporate Governance Code and the current application instructions and constitutes the Board's report concerning internal control over financial reporting.

Control environment

The Board has overall responsibility for the internal control over financial reporting. The Board has set out written rules of procedure that clarify the Board's responsibilities and that regulate the work of the Board. The Board will ensure that established principles for financial reporting and internal control are observed and that appropriate relationships with the company's auditors are maintained. The Board has prepared terms of reference for the CEO and instructions for financial reporting. The Group's internal control function provides support for the internal control over financial reporting in the Group's companies and business areas. Internal control instruments for financial reporting consist of the Group's financial policy, credit policy, information policy, investment rules, authorisation rules and the Group's accounting and reporting rules. Semcon's ethical values are documented in the Group's Code of Conduct, and staff policies complement other rules and instructions for employees. In recent years, much time and effort has been spent on the Group's management systems and to establish clearer procedures and regulations for submitting tenders/bids, contractual terms and for signing agreements. To ensure adherence to these rules, training initiatives were conducted during the year. Projects were also carried out to fully harmonise the Semcon Group's projects, processes and financial processes at all subsidiaries.

Risk assessment

Semcon's risk assessment regarding financial reporting – meaning identification and evaluation of the most significant risks in the Group's companies, business areas and financial reporting processes – forms the basis for how these risks are managed. Management takes the form of accepting, reducing or eliminating the risk. Annual evaluation activities are carried out by the internal control function using a risk-based model. A number of criteria are considered to assess the degree of risk of inaccuracies occurring in financial reporting. Complex accounting policies might, for example, mean that the financial reporting risks being inaccurate for the items covered by such policies. Measuring certain assets or liabilities using various assessment criteria might also constitute a risk. The same applies to complex and/or changed business conditions.

Control activities

The significant risks identified for financial reporting are managed through various control activities and processes in the Group's companies and business areas, and aim to safeguard that the basic demands on external financial reporting are met.

Framework for internal control

The control activities build on the Group's minimum requirements for internal control over financial reporting and consist of comprehensive, detailed controls that can be preventative and exploratory in nature. The respective business areas are responsible for the Group's control instruments being implemented and observed and that any possible deviations are reported.

Information and communication

Information and communication about internal control instruments for financial reporting is published on Semcon's intranet. External communication consists of, for example, external financial reporting, such as interim reports and the Annual Report. There is a communication policy to support the information procedures in the Group. This clearly states who is allowed to communicate what type of information and that the information must be correct, coordinated, consistent, prompt and transparent, both internally and externally.

Monitoring

Monitoring to ensure effective internal control over financial reporting is carried out by the Board, CEO, Group management, the internal control function and the Group's companies and business areas. Monitoring is carried out informally and formally and comprises follow-ups of monthly financial statements against budgets and objectives as well as quarterly reports, which in certain cases is supplemented with independent reviews by external auditors. Monitoring and reporting to the Board function effectively. Semcon has introduced a Group-wide reporting system for work related to internal control over financial reporting, which includes self-evaluation of all the Group's companies and business areas. This provides an overview of how the Group's subsidiaries and business areas meet the minimum requirements for internal control over financial reporting for material risks identified and also provides information concerning the status of the work. Each company and business area is responsible for preparing action plans for deviations, which are subsequently followed-up by the respective internal board of each business area. In view of the results of these activities, the company has thus far found no reason to introduce a special internal audit function.
